

How to Report a Compliance or Ethical Concern

Know your reporting options.

The University of Arizona is committed to maintaining an environment for learning, working, and living which upholds high standards of compliance, integrity, and ethical conduct. The university provides an accessible system for reporting potential concerns and misconduct.

Emergency or crime in progress?

Call 911 immediately.

Choose a Reporting Option

Report Directly to a Supervisor or Manager

Reporting directly to a supervisor, manager, or the specific office with responsibility to address the concern is often the most effective and efficient option.

Report to the Ethics & Compliance Hotline

If reporting directly is not an option, or you prefer to remain anonymous, the Ethics & Compliance Hotline is your best resource. Reporting is secure, available 24/7.

Contact University Compliance

Any community member can contact the University Compliance Office directly to report a concern or request guidance.
